

LINGUISTICS
(specialty 10.02.19)

Katsitadze I.M., Khristianova N.V. Semantic relations of lexemes within the aspect of morphological category of definiteness/indefiniteness

The article deals with the problem of semantic relations of lexemes in the aspect of the category of definiteness/indefiniteness (on the material of Russian Mass-Media). These relations have rich potential for investigating within the frameworks of differential approach. The article deals with implicit ways of expressing the category of definiteness/indefiniteness. Special attention is given to semantic relations (age, social, behavioural and etc.) between the nouns expressing the meaning of definiteness/ indefiniteness in statements. The novelty of work is in the fact that semantic relations between the nouns expressing the meaning of definiteness/indefiniteness are analysed from a perspective of the frame approach, which enables to reveal the essence of such concept as «semantic relations», and also to investigate in detail the problem of the addressee's perception of statements with the meaning of definiteness/indefiniteness. The analysis carried out enabled to consider the category of definiteness/indefiniteness in all variety of its relations, connections and laws.

Key words: semantic repetition, contextual synonyms, cognitive semantics, hyperhyponymic relations, conceptual field, frame of semantic relations, syntactical model.

Pedagogical institute of Southern federal university

January, 16, 2012

---