

HISTORY

specialty 07.00.01

Tarasov R.S. Tendencies of Russian industrial policy within the development of mining in XVIII-XIX centuries

The state policy defines growth and development of the mining-metallurgical industry depending on external and internal conditions where it is formed. The analysis of governmental actions in the field of industrial policy directed on development of metallurgical and factory branch is carried out in the article. The most important directions of support and encouragement of the mining-metallurgical industry of the XVIII-XIX centuries are revealed. Results of industrial policy at different stages of its realization are analysed.

Keywords: industry, economic policy, protectionism, competition, innovation activities, customs policy, tariff.

Mordvinian state

university of N.P. Ogarev

October, 21, 2012

---