

PHILOSOPHY
(specialty 09.00.11)

Moustafaev F.M. Modern international conflicts and compromises of North Caucasus region

It is analyzed the problem of inter-ethnic conflicts. The main forms of conflict, widely spread in the post-Soviet space is considered. A comparative study of ethnic conflict suggests that their evolution has repeated features and stages, according to their allocated than general laws. It is noted that the ethno-political state of modern North Caucasus is estimated by a number of geopolitical, long-term and situational factors. Ambiguity and heterogeneity of the socio-political situation in the North Caucasus region considers the examples of individual subjects of the North Caucasus – the republics of Adygea and Dagestan. It is emphasized the importance of interconfessional compromise in theory and practice.

Key words: conflict, ethnic conflict, ethnic policies, compromise, interconfessional compromise.

Dagestan state

pedagogical university, Makhachkala

February, 15, 2013

---