

PSYCHOLOGY

Kuznetsova L.E.

(Institute of service and entrepreneurship (branch) Don state technical university. Shakhty city, Russia)

Influence of structured organization of the relations on shaping adaptation potential of personalities

The article considers the problem of adapting the person to extreme situation by way of the estimation of psychological characteristic, defining adaptation potential to personalities. As central category it is elected the category of relations, which, on the one hand, describes the position of the person in the world, but on the other hand, emphasizes its active role and is giving power to personalities. The study of the system of the relations as larval mechanism of the shaping adaptation potential to personalities to extreme situation, contributes the essential contribution to revision, development and profound filling of such notion as strictly «larval potential». The article presents results of exploratory and correction work with employee of the police bodies, passing service in North-Caucasian region, in Chechen republic. It is studied and chosen particularities to structured organization of the relations to personalities, promoting shaping the high potential to personalities, as well as conditioning his deficit.

Key words: extreme situation, social-psychological adaptation, adaptation potential to personalities, system of the relations, larval-situational approach, psychic desadaptation, strategies of joint ownership with stress.

March, 19, 2014
