

PHILOSOPHY

Popova N.A., Saprykina E.V.

(North-Caucasus federal university. Stavropol, Russia)

Postmodern tendencies in education within the context of information society

The article analyzes the state of modern education through the prism of ideology of the information society. Informatization processes problematize postmodern setting in education, their emphasis on the contradictory and controversial character. In the conditions of information, the role of education, and from the standpoint of society postmodernization stated the crisis in education, which is based on misunderstanding of the role of modern education in the new modernizing information technology-based society. On the one hand, education plays the role of factor revolutionary modernization of society, providing growth of social wealth. However, the transformation that will lead to the formation of the new information society, it is impossible to implement without reform the education system itself, affecting its essential aspects.

Key words: culture, education, knowledge, postmodernism, information society, informatization, information technologies

---

August, 14, 2014