«Formula» of the modern Russian Public consciousness

In this paper an attempt is made play «formula» of the Russian public consciousness in contemporary social and cultural conditions. The author, based on the well-known formula of Count S.S. Uvarov and taking into account the views of contemporary philosophers, comes to the approval of the «formula» in the interpretation of «Eurasian superethnical integrity. The continuity of the power vertical. Traditional ideology». He believes that this «formula» can be read in two ways: 1) to be sovereign and original participant in world politics, Russia must have a Eurasian superethnic integrity, and this is only possible while maintaining the continuity of the vertical of power, in turn, in order to strengthen its providing creative evolution of the soil, the traditional ideology; 2) the source of the Russian public consciousness is the traditional ideology, the system of conventional ideas, meanings and values, substantiates statehood in the form of successive vertical of power, which in turn provides a Eurasian superethnic integrity.

Key words: social consciousness, the Russian mentality, superethnos, tradition, ideology.
