Law terms and law functions

This article deals with the problems of interaction and interconnection of functions of law and legal terms. The author explores the participation of terms in generally social and especially legal functions of law, in generally legal and interdisciplinary functions of law, in smaller groups of normative prescriptions (norms-goals, norms-tasks, norms-principles, norms-definitions, norms-collisions, norms-rules of behavior). It was made logical conclusion that the legal terms in addition to being permanently involved in the functions of law, but also have their own abilities of legal influence on almost all of social relationships that exist in this society. About the fact those terms have their own function to resolve social relations in society, and those directions of impact, in their turn, are divided into basic and advanced.

Key words: legal terms, the functions of law, legal regulation, dynamics of social relations, functions of terms.
