

LAW

R.M. Skulakov

(Non-departmental research institute of security and investigation study. Moscow, Russia)

Exceptional regimes as means of countering threats to the territorial integrity of the Russian Federation

The article presents the main aspects of the introduction of exceptional conditions in the territory of the Russian Federation as a means to counter threats to the territorial integrity of the state, consider a situation in which you need them, and the introduction of rules that are introduced in the territory in the event of the introduction of the exclusive position. Exceptional legal and administrative regimes are necessary in cases of threats to the sovereignty, territorial integrity and the life and health of the population of the Russian Federation. Existing RF exceptional legal regimes are diverse and have a universal character, the main features of which are described in this article.

Key words: legal and administrative regimes, exclusive regimes, military security, territorial integrity, sovereignty.

June, 11, 2015

---