

LAW

B.V. Makogon

(Belgorod university of cooperation, economics and law. Belgorod, Russia)

Control and supervisory activity of the authorized subjects within the context of the processioning of Russian legislation

Author's interpretation of the position of the control and surveillance activities from a position of systematizing the doctrinal and legal sources is considered. This legal phenomenon characterized considering processioning of modern Russian legislation. The analysis allowed the author to provide the conceptual and practical directions for further improvement of the control and surveillance activities in Russia.

Key words: control, supervision, legal procedural form, control, power, responsibility, authority.

September, 28, 2015
