

PHILOLOGY

Nina I. Speranskaya, Olga E. Yatsevich, Svetlana A. Kovalevskaya

(Tyumen industrial university. Tyumen, Russian Federation)

The luxury of human interaction: the genius prophecy of Antoine de Saint-Exupery?

It is considered the antinomial basis of communication, which is expressed in the truth and pseudocommunication, last mentioned causes deformation in the subject-subject component of human contacts. The complex pattern of communication determines the urgency of its study by many sciences. Modern development of information and communication technologies generates new types of emergence of communication with the intensive use of technical innovations, which carries both positive and negative (explicit and hidden) aspects. The causes of human communication deformation are revealed. The authors rely on literary sources (various translations of Antoine de Saint-Exupery's works).

Key words: communication, subject, interaction, connotation.

July 3, 2018
