

PHILOSOPHY

Olga Yu. Kolosova, Tatyana V. Vergun

(Krasnodar university of Ministry of Inner Affairs of Russian Federation (Stavropol branch). Stavro-pol, Russian Federation; North-Caucasus social institute. Stavropol, Russian Federation)

Social and philosophical analysis of the ethics of the modern stage of civilizational development

The global crises of our time are a manifestation of the socio-economic development of the world community, focused on technocratic goals, values and material consumption. The authors in this article view the ideals and norms of the new ethic underlying spirituality as a civilizational phenomenon, as features of the modern stage of development, which becomes a factor of human survival. The nature of social interaction is due not only to the level of scientific and technological development of mankind, but also to the creation of a rationally organized social system that forms the basis for the transformation of knowledge accumulated in culture into an effective force, it is advisable to rebuild the sphere of nature.

Key words: social development, bioethics, environmental ethics, humanism, spirituality, civilizational development.

March 21, 2020
