

PEDAGOGY

Nikolay M. Zharinov, Aleksey A. Dremlyuga, Vladimir A. Bugaev

(St. Petersburg military institute of Zhukov's medal of national guard troops; Leningrad regional institute of education development. St. Petersburg, Russian Federation)

Student's motivation development to cognitive activities

It is discussed the urgent issue of the development of motivation for cognitive activity; the main historical ways of developing the motivation for learning were also presented; the opinion on the motivation for training cadets (students) in military universities of the national guard of the Russian Federation was revealed. The article drew attention to the various functions of motives, as inducing, guiding, stimulating. The motives of cadets (students) of the military institutes of the troops of the national guard of the Russian Federation for cognitive activity were revealed. A way to solve the problem posed in the article through the painstaking work of the faculty to determine the needs, dispositions, inclinations, habits, orientation of the person, interests, and not just the focus on the goal is proposed.

Key words: motivation, motive, function of motives, training activity, national guard troops.

March 11, 2020
