

PEDAGOGY

Lyubov Ya. Khoronko, Olga D. Fedotova

(Don state technical university. Rostov-on-Don, Russian Federation)

Regional aspects of preparing personnel for the state service system in the Russian Federation

The article discusses issues related to the processes of the formation of Russian statehood and the construction of civil society on the principles of democratization and regionalization, which determined the need for reforming the public administration system. In the context of the federal organization of the state structure of Russia, the effectiveness of the functioning of government bodies directly depends on professional competencies and the broad socio-economic culture of state and municipal employees in the civil service support system. The article reveals the problematic aspects of this topic.

Key words: Russian statehood, civil society, principles, regionalization, professional competencies.

April 2, 2020
