

PHILOLOGY

Victoria A. Razhina

(Rostov State Transport University, Rostov-on-Don, Russian Federation)

Linguistic and socio-cultural peculiarities of modern English-language economic discourse

It is considered a variety of linguistic peculiarities of the English-language economic discourse taking into consideration socio-cultural references which form discourse competence of an individual in modern society. The analysis of lexical, grammatical, stylistic characteristics as well as socio-cultural peculiarities realized in the speech practice of economic activity subjects is under consideration. Extra-linguistic aspect of the discourse forms some ground for an addressee's attention to the whole spectrum of background knowledge not only in economic sphere but also in other important fields of people's life.

Key words: economic discourse, linguistic peculiarities of economic discourse in the English language, discourse competence.

March 28, 2021
