

PEDAGOGY

Alexey V. Dontsov, Alexander A. Volkov, Marina V. Makhrinova

(Stavropol state pedagogical institute, Stavropol, Russian Federation; North Caucasus federal university, Stavropol, Russian Federation)

Pedagogical tact in the process of educational activity

The rules of pedagogical tact are closely related to the norms of pedagogical etiquette, which result, and many coincide with the general standards of etiquette, but many are determined by the specifics of communication in the field of educational activity. Specific norms of pedagogical etiquette can be divided conditionally into several groups: etiquette standards in preparation for work; standards of ethics in the lesson; standards of etiquette outside the occupation; standards of etiquette in extracurricular communication, but in the role of a teacher; standards of etiquette in communication with parents of students; standards of etiquette in public places. According to the authors, it should be noted that these rules cannot be considered unchanged, the teacher should choose the forms of behavior in accordance with the circumstances.

Key words: personality, education, tactfulness, morality, cultural behavior, pedagogical activity.

February 10, 2022

---