

Alexander N. Tomilin¹, Anna V. Popova², Khanifa S. Galieva³

(^{1, 2, 3} Admiral F. Ushakov Maritime State University, Novorossiysk, Russian Federation)

Патриотическое воспитание как инструмент формирования профессионально значимых качеств будущего морского специалиста

The article considers patriotic education as an important factor in the formation of professionally significant qualities of future maritime specialists. The practice of educational and patriotic work in maritime educational institutions aimed at developing professionally significant qualities in cadets is analyzed. The results of a survey on the influence of patriotic education on the professional training of cadets are presented. The main ways of forming professionally significant qualities in future maritime specialists in the course of patriotic education are proposed. A conclusion is made about the need for an integrated approach to patriotic education in order to train highly qualified specialists in the maritime industry.

Key words: patriotic education, maritime specialists, professional qualities, discipline, responsibility, maritime university, integrated approach, worldview, humanism, civic and professional duty.

June 18, 2025
