

PHILOSOPHY

Alla V. Dukhavneva¹, Tamara V. Slezko²

¹Southern university (IUBiP), Rostov-on-Don, Russian Federation; ²Novocherkassk melioration engineering institute named after A.K. Kortunov, Don state agrarian university, Novocherkassk, Russian Federation

Internet addiction of modern teenagers and infantilism: the problem of interconnection

The article is devoted to the actual problem of Internet addiction among modern teenagers, which requires a deeper understanding and, as a result, a systematic approach to its solution. The article presents a terminological range of the concept of “Internet addiction” and highlights the signs of Internet addiction among teenagers. The main focus is on the relationship between Internet addiction and infantilism, highlighting the mechanisms that link Internet addiction and infantilism, and the significant consequences for the development of teenagers.

Key words: Internet addiction, signs of Internet addiction, infantilism, manifestations of infantilism in adolescents, and the relationship between Internet addiction and infantilism.

December 24, 2025
